AimBank Levelland Announces Marc Tucker

Levelland, TX – AimBank is proud to announce the addition of Marc Tucker in Levelland as Senior Vice President, Levelland Commercial Market President.

“I would like to announce the addition of Marc Tucker in our Levelland branch of AimBank,” remarked Scott Wade, AimBank CEO. “Marc brings an abundance of banking knowledge, and we are excited about the opportunity to have him as part of AimBank team.”

Marc Tucker is a native of West Texas. He has various degrees from South Plains College, Texas Tech University, and Angelo State University. He has over 12 years of local banking experience. Marc is an active member of the community serving on the South Plains College Foundation Board, Hockley County Livestock Show Board, Levelland Chamber of Commerce, and coaches youth sports. “I am very excited and proud to work for such a strong organization with hometown ownership. AimBank is highly recognized in Levelland as a strong community bank with local loan decisions. I look forward to continuing to serve Levelland and Hockley County in my new role at AimBank,” remarked Marc Tucker.

About AimBank

AimBank was originally chartered on September 19, 1925, as the First National Bank of Littlefield. Due to the perseverance on the part of its officers and staff, the bank withstood the Great Depression, a world war, and various booms and busts in the agriculture and energy markets. In 2003, the bank was converted to a state-chartered bank and ownership is now vested in AimBank employees and local investors. AimBank has continually grown and expanded our presence into several markets over the years, including Abilene, Amarillo, Farwell, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, Miami, Midland, Muleshoe, Odessa, Pampa, Shamrock, Snyder, and Wolfforth with over $1.4 billion in assets.
